THE WARDENSHIP.

The Carson Tribune misrepresents the position of the JOURNAL on the Warden question, and its attitude toward Lieutenant Governor Laughton. The JOURNAL distinctly stated that the Legislature would find Mr. Laughton a very competent man for the position. But it objects to his election simply because he is Lieutenant Governor, and opposes the proposition to make that official ex-officio Warden, contending that the proper thing to do is to give the Prison Commissioners absolute control of the State Prison officers, believing such a policy to be for the best interests of the institution and the State. The JOURNAL has no axe to grind in the matter, nor has the result of the Congressional election at all influenced the opinion of its editor. Should the Legislature decide to retain control of the Wardenship the JOURNAL expects it to select the best man for the position of Warden, and if Washoe, or Storey, or any other county, can present a better man than Ormsby shall name, then the Legislature would commit a very foolish act by selecting the Ormsby candidate.

Reno offers superior advantages for the establishment of a woolen mill and if capital was not so timid, we should have had one here years ago. It is unnecessary for us to repeat the many advantages which would follow. Nevada produces thousands of dollars worth of splendid wool, and consumes thousands of dollars worth of goods manufactured from that article, and yet all the profit, both ways, is made by non-residents, and we are losing 30 per cent. a year by not manufacturing our own woolen goods. We wonder how much longer Nevada intends to live only to benefit citizens of other States.

The New Age, organ of the Odd Fellows, has an article recommending the admission of young men to the lodges at the age of eighteen years and the argument is made that "eighteen years of age in 1892 is very different from eighteen years of age in 1810."

The Virginia Chronicle bewails the loss of volume XVI. of its Appleton's Cyclopaedia, and offers $3 reward for the return of the book. Meanwhile Mr. Seaborn slashes the Washington Star.

Gorham announces that the reports that Republican Senators will oppose his candidacy for Secretary of the Senate are unfounded, and that he will have the unanimous support of all.

A New Departure in Postal Matters.

The Postmaster General has taken a step which it is believed, in some quarters, will materially affect the future operations and reforms in the department. This was the conclusion of the contract with Leo Ehrlich, of St. Louis, for the use of his recent ingenious invention of a combination letter sheet and envelope. By the middle of January the Ehrlich invention will be on sale at the principle postoffices in the country, in the shape of a letter sheet an envelope and stamp, all for three cents, and circular letter and stamp for one cent, adding the cost of paper. The single letter sheets are manufactured with gummed flaps, which when the sheet is folded, lap over to open edges and secure the missive. A government stamp is to be embossed on one of the flaps, which comes over like the flap on an envelope, and the whole thing is licked, stamped and sealed with the same motion. This brings the stamp where the old wafers and seals used to be, instead of being upon the upper right hand corner. The Postmaster will not be compelled to apply the cancellation stamp, as the letters cannot be opened nor the embossed stamp removed without destroying the stamp.

William M. Edgar.

The newly elected Auditor of San Francisco, Wm. M. Edgar, is thus spoken of by the San Francisco Exchange: A wise selection has been made in this gentleman for the very important office of Auditor. No man in this city is better qualified for the intelligent administration of the business of this office than Mr. Edgar. His competency and integrity are beyond question. He has been continuously engaged in this office for ten years as assistant Auditor, and so valuable were his services deemed that when Mr. Dunn was elected Auditor, he retained Mr. Edgar as his assistant, through adverse of politics. Under Mr. Brickwedel's regime Mr. Edgar was retired, only however, to become his immediate successor, in the late contest. As will be seen from the facts above stated Mr. Edgar is proven to be possessed of every qualification requisite for the position to which he has been elected. He numbers among his staunch friends the best men of both political factions.

Illiteracy in the United States.

A special census bulletin shows that in the United States there are 4,923,451 persons of 10 years of age and upward unable to read, and 6,239,958 unable to write. Of the number of persons returned as unable to write, 3,019,080 are white; native whites unable to write, 2,255,460; colored persons of 10 years of age and unable to write, 3,220,878. Illiteracy is confined principally to the Southern States.

Accumulations of the Dead Letter Office.

The catalogue of articles accumulated in the Dead Letter office during the past year has just been issued, announcing the sale thereof at public auction December 4th. The articles consist of jewelry, toilet goods and every conceivable thing which could be sent through the mails; more than 8,000 packages.

Killed by Fugitive Sullivan.

The New York Sun says that the blacksmith Rainey, who fought Sullivan with soft gloves in Washington ten days ago, has died from the effects of his injuries, and that Sullivan is evading the officers.

The annual report of the Treasury Department shows the receipts of the Government, exclusive of the public debt during the fiscal year which ended June 30, to have been $403,525,350; expenditures, exclusive of redemption of the public debt, $257,881,439.

Carson is the only place on the coast that enjoys the delights of two elections in the same month. Even Reno, with all its boasted attractions, never had two elections in one month. Rome had its Caesar, England its Shakespeare, San Francisco its Pixley; but none of these places ever had two elections in one month.—Carson Appeal.

Mothers! Mothers!! Mother!!!

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the little sufferer at once—depend upon it: there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it who will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and give rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases, and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Sold everywhere. 25 cents a bottle. Jan10-1y-SuW&F&w

Next Thursday will be Thanksgiving Day.

Governor Kindead was in town yesterday.

Gen. E. S. Davis is slightly under the weather.

The District Court will be in session Wednesday.

Chancellor Derby went down to the Bay yesterday.

Gen. R. M. Clarke came over from Carson yesterday.

Sheriff Walker has been very ill for several days past.

Several mines near Greenville have been closed by attachments.

W. M. Boardman, M. J. Smith and William Caughlin are home again.

E. J. Parkinson, junior editor of the Carson Tribune, was in town last evening.

Fresh Eastern chestnuts are in the market, but they are so dear that only devoted bondholders can afford to buy them.

This libel is published by the Carson Tribune.

There are more bums to the square yard in the town of Reno than in any city in the wide world, in fact it is a booming and striking railroad by way of stopping off place, and nothing else.

Conductor Follett is again able to run his train although still suffering from chronic rheumatism. Tip, Clark, Mr. Follett's engineer, is very ill at Walley's Springs with chronic rheumatism. Both gentlemen are old and faithful officers on the V. & T. R. R.

Coffee Tom and Jerry and Coffee Punch, something new and very delicious; go to Chase & Thyes' and be sure and call for it. After giving either a trial you will drink nothing else. Also sweet California apples eaten constantly on hand, and the best cigars.

Services in the Baptist Church at 11 A. M., and 7 P. M. Rev. A. B. Palmer will preach in the morning and the pastor in the evening. Evening subject: "The Divine Promises." A union Thanksgiving service will be held in the Methodist Church Thursday at 11 A. M., and a union temperance meeting in the evening.

Such talk as "I am afraid to send for a watch or chain, for fear that I would not be suited," is all silly nonsense—for just write what kind of an article you want, giving a plain description of it, and the price you want to pay, and in nine cases out of ten you will be sent a better one than you wrote for, or at even less than you are willing to pay, for often Uncle Harris' price for an article, after reckoning the loan and interest, comes to less than the money sent by the purchaser. Remember, 221 Kearney street, between Bush and Satter.

The N. & O. R. R.

Geo. A. King, of the narrow gauge, has extended to the Tribune editor, an invitation to him and Carson acquaintances to make a trip on the new road at any time that may suit all parties. The Tribune suggest that a special train be gotten up to leave Carson early in the morning and return late the same evening.

War Claims.

Following is an official statement of the amount of the money advanced in war claims, to the United States by the State of Nevada:

Rebellion.....$340,607 49
White Pine Indian..... 16,650 98
Elko Indian..... 4,654 64

Total.....$372,000 11

Controller Hallock will forward all the necessary papers to Washington, and is hopeful that this State will receive some of this money, if not all.

Going Home.

The Carson Tribune says Maurice May, the oldest stand-by of Franktown, Washoe county, will leave on or about the first of December on a visit to his father's home in Canada. Maurice has held the position of Constable of Franktown and deputy Sheriff of Washoe county for years, and there is no man in that part of Nevada that has a better reputation than he. The folks of Franktown will sadly miss our French-Canadian friend, for he has lived among them since 1861, and experienced all the ups and downs such places are subject to, and all through the changes he has been true to his friends at home and abroad.

The Weekly Journal's Clubbing Arrangement with the Cincinnati Commercial.

Having made arrangements to club the WEEKLY JOURNAL with the Cincinnati Weekly Commercial, we announce that we will furnish the WEEKLY JOURNAL and the Cincinnati Weekly Commercial, a large 8-page, 50-column family newspaper, printed from large, clear new type, and furnishes more reading matter for the money than any other newspaper in the county, the issue of each week containing over twenty-two square feet of printed matter, and is not surpassed for news, business reports, literary and select reading, one year for $3 50, and will give as a free prize to each yearly subscriber under this clubbing arrangement any one book he may select from the following famous works—postage paid and free of all cost—the books being unabridged, beautifully printed on good paper in paper covers: Tennyson's Poems; The Arabian Nights; The Narrative of the Jeannette Arctic Expedition, by Lieut. Danenhower; The Mill on the Floss, by George Eliot; Wood's Natural History for Boys, (300 illustrations); East Lynne, by Mrs. Henry Wood; Vennor's Almanac for 1883; The Swiss Family Robinson; A Treatise on the Horse and His Diseases, by Dr. B. "The Phoenix."

Theatre-goers should secure their seats without delay for the performance of the Milton Noble Company, the 28th inst. The company is a good one and have drawn crowded houses throughout the East wherever they have played.

"The Phoenix," a new and strong piece, will be produced here. An eastern paper has this to say concerning it: To say that the play is a success but faintly expresses its many excellences. It is without doubt the best production of the kind ever given in this city. From beginning to end it sparkles with wit, and overflows with exuberant humor. The dialogue is fresh, bright and breezy and many of the situations very funny. It is truly an American play, for in no place outside of America is the newspaper reviewer known in his narrative purity. There are reporters in these United States who would interview Queen Victoria upon the coast of her private jewels, Emperor William on his love for France, or the Russian deposit on the question of Judiao outrages. Such a character Mr. Nobles portrayed last evening as "Quillford Drivertown," familiarly known as "Quill-driver. That Mr. Nobles has more than once seen the inside of editorial and reportorial rooms in a practical way is made manifest by the technical manner in which the play, which he so cleverly presents, treats the subject matter. Mr. Nobles is more an author as well as an actor and writes his own dramas.

The dialogue is fresh, bright and breezy and many of the situations very funny. It is truly an American play, for in no place outside of America is the newspaper reviewer known in his narrative purity. There are reporters in these United States who would interview Queen Victoria upon the coast of her private jewels, Emperor William on his love for France, or the Russian deposit on the question of Judiao outrages. Such a character Mr. Nobles portrayed last evening as "Quillford Drivertown," familiarly known as "Quill-driver. That Mr. Nobles has more than once seen the inside of editorial and reportorial rooms in a practical way is made manifest by the technical manner in which the play, which he so cleverly presents, treats the subject matter. Mr. Nobles is more an author as well as an actor and writes his own dramas.

"The Phoenix."

Theatre-goers should secure their seats without delay for the performance of the Milton Noble Company, the 28th inst. The company is a good one and have drawn crowded houses throughout the East wherever they have played.

"The Phoenix," a new and strong piece, will be produced here. An eastern paper has this to say concerning it: To say that the play is a success but faintly expresses its many excellences. It is without doubt the best production of the kind ever given in this city. From beginning to end it sparkles with wit, and overflows with exuberant humor. OLEOMARGARINEOUS.

Practical Hints to Washoe County Dairywomen.

If the dairywomen of the meadows desire to be prepared for the time when the bull-butter now being manufactured night and day in San Francisco, will surely arrive, they will speedily endeavor to make a general average improvement in the quality of their articles of butter. While it is true that very fine butter has been always found in the market coming from valley dairywomen, yet it is of the higher priced kind. The lower grades of butter are very uncertain, never being of a standard character. It is this fact that furnishes the strongest argument to the advocates of the oleomargarine butter both here and in the East. They quote in their multifarious advertisements, the names of half a dozen eastern professors and savants who declare that the bull-butter which is always of a standard grade is vastly superior to four-fifths of the cheaper priced dairy butter to be found in the public markets. A number of results of analysis are given of butter purchased in open market in New York City, showing the article to be half decomposed into rancid acids and very deleterious to health.

THE GREATEST CARE

Is necessary in butter-making, and at every step the greatest caution should be observed. The process followed should always be as nearly as possible the same and every batch of butter ought to be made under the same conditions. One of the prime factors in the making of good butter is to avoid every possible contamination from odors, milk being one of the most sympathetic liquids, greedily absorbing the faintest trace of smells floating through the air.

DOORS ON MILK.

The London Milk Journal cites instances where milk that has stood a short time, in the presence of persons sick with typhoid fever or been handled by parties before fully recovered from small-pox, has spread these diseases as if the persons themselves had been present. Scariatina, measles and other contagious diseases have been spread in the same way. The peculiar smell of a cellar is indelibly impressed upon all the butter made from milk standing in it. A few puffs from a pipe or cigar will scent all the milk in the room, and a smoking lamp will do the same. A pint of milk standing ten minutes where it will take the scent of a strong smelling stable or any other odor, will imbibe a taint that will never leave it. A maker of gut-edged butter objects to cooling warm milk in the room where his milk stands for the cream to rise, because, he says, the odor escaping from the new milk while cooling is taken in by the other milk and retained to the injury of his butter. This may seem like descending to little things, but it must be remembered that it is the sum of such little things that determines whether the products of the dairy are to be sold at cost or below, or as a high-priced luxury. If milk is to be converted into an article of the latter class, it must be handled and kept in clean and sweet vessels, and must stand in pure fresh air, such as would be desirable and healthy for persons to breathe.

BUT BULL BUTTER IS COMING.

And unless the farmer and dairyman constantly make a good article of both gut-edged and low priced butter, they will find themselves in serious competition with the California monopoly, which, after it becomes once entrenched, will become more and more unscrupulous in the selection of their raw material, thus reducing the cost of their product and enabling them to undersell the resident farmer at the cost of the public's health. Let the dairywomen adopt and maintain a permanent and high standard in butter making and they will be enabled to hold their own; otherwise dairymen will, before long, be a losing business. The JOURNAL will shortly publish an account of the method used by one of the most successful buttermen of the Meadows.

V & T Railroad Shops.

The Carson Appeal says, "There is considerable activity now at the V. & T. machine shops, and more hands are employed than have been for several months. The Merrimac has just been finished and is ready for the road. It is a 40-ton engine of the Mogul pattern, with six connected driving wheels, and constructed for the heaviest work. Esmeralda No. 4 is undergoing repairs, that is, having its insides taken out and its running gear all made over. The Churchill, a narrow-gauge engine from the C. & C., is also in the stocks with its bare skeleton hoisted up so the mechanics can get at it. The narrow-gauge engines are run on a flat car at the Mound House provided with a narrow track and run into the engine house from the flat car. Engine No. 5, the Carson, has been rebuilt. It is as clean as a new needle, and weighs 35 tons."

Christmas things are beginning to arrive. The little folk are keeping their eyes on the shop windows.

The Indians are killing large numbers of sheep on Madeline Plains.
